

EWTN PRO-LIFE WEEKLY

INTRODUCTION

Catherine Hadro (hey-drO) is the host/managing editor of EWTN Pro-Life Weekly, a global TV show dedicated to pro-life issues from a Catholic perspective. Based out of EWTN News' Washington, D.C. studio, Hadro regularly interviews politicians, Church leaders, and cultural figures on life issues ranging from conception to natural death. EWTN Pro-Life Weekly has become the go-to source for analysis on top pro-life news and issues.

Hadro started as a reporter, producer, and founding team member for EWTN News Nightly, where her coverage included Saint John Paul II's canonization and Pope Francis' historic 2015 U.S. visit.

She anchored EWTN's live coverage of the 2018, 2019, and 2020 March for Life and provided on-the-ground reporting for this event in 2021. Her writings have appeared in America Magazine, the Washington Examiner, and the National Catholic Register. She is the recipient of Good Counsel Homes' 2020 Fr. Benedict Groeschel award. In the NARAL Pro-Choice America's 2018 report entitled "The Insidious Power of The Anti-Choice Movement," Hadro is proud that EWTN Pro-Life Weekly is listed first under "Anti-Choice Media."

Hadro graduated magna cum laude from Florida State University with a degree in Advertising. She currently resides in Virginia with her husband.
